ABOUT IETE

The Institution of Electronics and Telecommunication Engineers (IETE), founded in 1953, is India's leading professional society promoting advancements in electronics telecommunications, computer science, and IT. Recognized as a Scientific and Industrial Research Organization (SIRO) and a nationally eminent educational institution, IETE has a membership exceeding 1.25 lakh across 63 centres in India and abroad. It plays a vital role in supporting the nation's scientific and technological growth.

ABOUT AIC

The Annual IETE Conference (AIC) is a flagship event of IETE. AIC is a National-level Convention aimed at fostering technological innovation, research, and knowledge exchange among professionals, academicians, researchers, and students.

ABOUT CHANDIGARH

Chandigarh, the host city, is a planned urban centre designed by Le Corbusier and serves as the shared capital of Punjab and Haryana. Nestled at the base of the Shivalik Himalayas, it is India's first solar city and a model for sustainable urban development. With green belts, efficient waste management, and climate-adaptive architecture, Chandigarh maintains excellent air quality and promotes eco-friendly living. Iconic landmarks like the UNESCO-listed Capitol Complex and the Rock Garden reflect the city's blend of design and innovation.
